The following autograph letter from the Pope accompanied the gift:

To our belowed son, James Cardinal Gibbone, Archbishop of Baltimore, health and apostolic benediction.

We have already received the good news that during the coming October on the happy occasion of the golden jubilee of your episcopate, your fellow citizens propose to honor you with signal marks of their affection and foy. Indeed in so illustrious a maniner have you wen the high esteem of men in the sight of all your fellow Americans that it can hardly be a matter of surprise that, not only your clergy and people bound to you by ties of affection, but also men of every order, should join in paying you honor.

With so great a throng of well wishers may you enjoy the fruits of your clerty and religious observance bearing in mind that an abundant measure of reward is to be expected from Him "Who rendereth unto every man, according to his works."

As for ourselves, we join our grateful thanks with yours to the God who has sustained you and moreover we wish you joy to be augmented by our own congratulations, for indeed it is pleasing to us to fold in our fatherly embrace those who like yourself have labored long in the offices of the Good Shepherd. We are sending to you a souvenir of the happy day, which at the same time is a testimony of our affection for you.

Special Indulgence Granted.

Moreover, beseeching God to favorably regard your supplications we empower you, in our name, on the day of your jubiles at the solemn macrifice to bless those present, announcing a plenary indulgence to be gained by following the usual conditions. And as following the usual conditions. And as a pledge of beavenly rewards and as proof of our own affection for you, beloved son, we lovingly in the Lord impart to you and yours the apostolic benediction.

103 Wounded Soldiers Who Reception Follows Marriage Helped to "Put It Over" Strapped in City.

Unless some one starts a fund to en-Loan, they cannot spend the rest of their of the United States. They live far and near, from California to Maine, from f democracy, but unless somebody comes to the rescue they'll just have to go back to their hospitals after their work for hearts, not to mention fathers and prothers, who are longing to see them. tue to him, but it has been held up through the fortunes of war, and while the Government will pay one cent a mile toward sending them home for a visit, it can't pay all. That may be the privflege of grate ul citisens for whom these men have been fighting.

Long Committee to Help. The thing was broached behind the scenes last night at the Russian Liberty Loan concert at Carnegie Hall, after ten men in the audience had subscribed $1,000,000 each for bonds in the names khaki who were introduced to them from khaki who were introduced to them from the stage. Anxious members of the Isherty Loan committee, who have had the 103 army helpers in charge, would have liked to make an appeal for the home journey they knew would be so welcome, but hesitated to do so, not knowing if it would meet the approval of the Government, or if it might not hurt the pride of some of the soldiers in question. But it was said that if the thing could be done a little less publicly, if some one would take the initiative in starting a fund, the Liberty Loan committee would be only too slad to cooperate.

Davison, head of the War Council of the American

of the War Council of the American Red Cross:

"Plane have been made to meet the various requirements by organising with available French women, pending the arrival of American women to take their places, but it develops that this is impracticable, as the officers in command prefer that we should not enlarge our operations or develop new ones if we are not in a position to furnish American women. Women considering the canteen service must not think of it simply as pouring coffee, but rather as an opportunity to cheer and influence the men, the importance of which can only be appreciated here."

It was further explained that recruiting must be conducted with the utmost speed, since the demand for a high grade personnel is tremendous. There are many places where the Red Cross could serve thousands of sick men in hospitals and hundreds of thousands of passing troops at junction points that cannot now be served because of lack of personnel.

Applicants must be "strong, energetic."

might even have been conspicuous listeners uncomfortably seated on the stage.

But notic was there and many seats in the auditorium were uncocupied.

Mr. Bauer omitted compositions by writers of the enemy nations. He began with McDowell's "Kaitic" sonats. He gays the work a beautifully rich and poetic reading, one filled with feeling and imagination. Indeed, it would be difficult to recall any performance of this gonata which lent more distinction to the composition.

A group of eighteenth century pieces followed: The composers represented

In the evening Colin O'More, a young Irish tenor, gave a song recital in Acolian Hali. This singer is new to the local stage and proved to be a pleasing addition to a list of recitalists already long. His voice is one of natural beauty, and barring a tendency to throatiness he sang well. He showed taste in in-Maring a tendency to throatiness he sang well. The Hadur, Oct. 18 (delayed).—Announcement was made at the American Legation here to-day that the United States Government had offered to place at the immediate disposal of the Dutch Government 109,000 tons of coal monthly for the next twelve months or until the end of the war. The coal is to be shipped in vessels sent from Holland. The only condition to this offer is that Holland cease sending food to Germany. Mass. KNIGHT, John Jarrett, Lewis, W. Va. LAMBOT, Lee William, Milwankee, LINK, George Theron, Rockford, Ill. McGOY, Wallace Walter, West Jefferson, The United States Government sog-gesis that opinions be exchanged re-garding tonnage required for this pur-pose, which, it is suggested, might be arranged for by the shipment of the balance of grain to which Holland is entitled from American instead of more remote ports. This would insure quicker and more regular traffic between the United States and Holland. Brooklyn,
